PETREAS TOWER

Welcome to Petreas Tower, located in Old Kardamyli in Messinian Mani.

Same as all towers in Mani, Petreas Tower combines the unique historical heritage with the traditional architecture. Within the wildness and solitude of the landscape, Petreas Tower looks like it belongs there entirely as much as the rocks and the folds of the mountains all around.

With its minimalistic and austere style, made completely of the abundant material of the place, the stone, it is in perfect harmony with the landscape of Mani. In the tower, the traditional crossbows or loopholes in its elevated parts which were intended to confront the intruders, have been preserved even today.

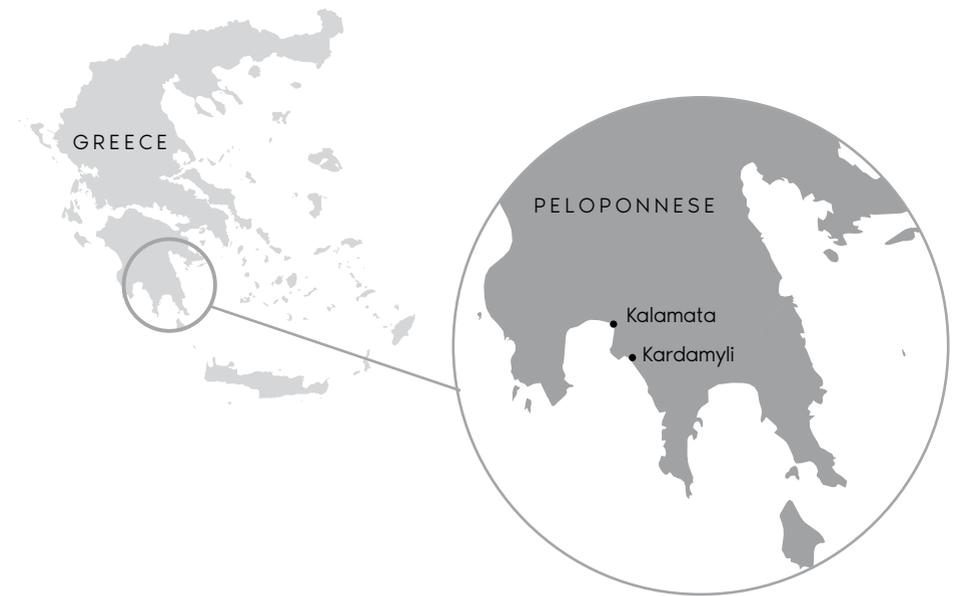

Externally it is surrounded by a stone courtyard overlooking the olive trees of the area while internally it has three floors, the upper, the lower and the basement. Completely renovated but maintaining its traditional aesthetic, Petreas Tower offers its customers the unique experience of the authentic messinian hospitality. The three spacious bedrooms of the house can accommodate up to six people while at the same time the living room, the kitchen, and the home office, offer a feeling of warmth and comfort.

THE LOCATION

Petreas Tower, is located in the city of Kardamyli, Southeast Peloponnese, in Mani, only 30 km away from the city of Kalamata and 41 km away from the airport of Kalamata.

In case you would like to reach the Petreas Tower by car, it is approximately 3,5 hours away from Athens.

ACCOMMODATION

The historic Petreas Tower can be booked as a single accommodation for up to 6 people. All guests have access to the courtyard, the roof top with the panoramic view and the private parking.
