AERA MILOS

Aera and Aeraki, is a traditional windmill holiday home and its adjacent studio on the Cyclades island of Milos in Greece and the most southwestern of the Cycladic cluster. Located near the picturesque village of Tripiti and the main airport, Aera Windmill and the Aeraki Studio are an escape to the corner of the Aegean Sea that shows natural beauty, history and traditional Greek culture on this amazing island which gave the world the Venus de Milos.

The highlight of the Aera windmill is the large external sitting area with its extensive sea views, coastal landscape and the tranquil atmosphere of Tripiti village.

*Pets under 10kg are welcome upon request & a pet fee of 25 € per stay will be applied.

 Pet amenities are available upon request.

THE LOCATION

Aera Milos, only 4 km from Adamantas port, is located in the village of Tripiti (meaning 'dents' or 'pits' in Greek) and the next main stopping point on the island after Plaka to the south. Taking its name from the many pits or dents which have been formed or carved into the soft volcanic rocks around about, it is a picturesque seaside village with a fabulous views across the bay of Milos. This is certainly a place to stop, rest and soak up the atmosphere with a drink – breathing in the island's beauty, position and ambience.

Near Tripiti are the ancient catacombs and Classical Theatre of Milos, both extremely fine and well-reserved examples of their form.
